"I think it's a beginning for authors to acknowledge that they are myth-makers and that, if they are widely read, will have an influence that will last for many years. I don't think there's a strong awareness of that now. And we have such a young culture that there is an opportunity to contribute wonderful new myths to it -- which will be accepted."

—Kurt Vonnegut, interview with Walter James Miller, WNYC's Reader's Almanac (1974)

Course Description:

This course begins with the questions: What is creative nonfiction? What are its various components and applications? What makes it such a popular genre? And, how does a writer dramatize fact in a way that doesn't cross over into fiction?

Required text: The Best American Essays of the Century, edited by Joyce Carol Oats and Robert Atwan.

Student Outcomes:

To answer these questions, and more, we will read and dissect the best American creative nonfiction writing of the past century, including today's best writers, to discover their practical structural guidelines, learn key insights into theme and metaphor, and develop applicable tools that will improve every student's understanding of, and writing in, this unique, and highly marketable, genre.

Attendance and Participation:

Attendance and participation are essential. You get one free absence (if it's absolutely unavoidable), but still must do the assigned work. Please exchange phone numbers and/or emails with a classmate now.

Grading & Evaluation:

Attendance and Participation (15%). Come to every class and engage thoughtfully and respectfully in lessons and discussions to earn full credit in this category.

Required Writing:

1. Personal Mission Statement (10%):

A statement of your purpose, and practical objectives, for learning the craft of creative nonfiction (1-2 pages double-spaced, 250-500 words).

2. Craft Essays (10% X 4 = 40%):

To be assigned (3-4 pages each, 750- 1,000 words). Hand in each essay on time, within the require word count, with focused writing on the assigned craft discipline to earn full credit.

3. Writer's Notebook (20%):

The Writer's notebook will be used to annotate all readings, reflect on and plan the writing of each craft essay, and to prepare for discussions in each Thursday Workshop. Writer's Notebooks can contain anything and everything that inspires and instructs your creative mind.

4. Reflective Essay (15%):

A summary essay detailing the craft journey of the writer upon reflection of the goals set in his or her Personal Mission Statement (3-4 pages, 750 - 1,000 words). Be introspective and honest, take great care to craft your writing well, and you will earn full credit.

It's a writing class so, yes, handing in work that is competent and error free matters a great deal.

Student Conduct

Our Tuesday and Thursday meetings are both in the "workshop-style" format so regular, thoughtful, and courteous engagement in our lively discussions is not just encouraged, but required, to get the most benefit from the learning experience. Your grade is based 15 percent on attendance and participation, so I pledge to always do my best to present challenging material, spark interesting discussion, moderate difficult topics, and steer our discourse to stay focused on the aspects most relevant to our purposes.

Please don't chew gum, or mess around with your cell phone, laptop, tablet, Google Glass, iWatch, Rubick's Cube -- or engage in any other rude, distracting behaviors.

This class is old school. I will prepare handouts to accompany important lessons. Any class notes will be taken by hand in your Writer's Notebook, not typed into a device. Video or audio recording of class is not allowed.

It is a student's responsibility to be aware of assignment deadlines.

Computer problems, power failures, and Internet difficulties are not excuses for missed assignments. Have back-up plans for possible technical glitches.

Academic Accommodations:

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, students with a documented disability are eligible for support services and accommodations. If a student wishes to request an accommodation, please contact the Director of Academic Support Services, Henry Conover, at (775) 831-1314 x7534, hconover@sierranevada.edu or go to the OASIS offices on the third floor of Prim Library within the first week of the semester.

The SNC E-mail System:

The SNC e-mail system is the official communication vehicle among students, faculty members and administrative staff and is designed to protect the confidentiality of student information as required by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 Act (FERPA). Students should check their college e-mail accounts daily during the school year. Students have a right to forward their SNC e-mail to another e-mail account (for example, @hotmail or @gmail). However, confidentiality of student information protected by FERPA cannot be guaranteed for SNC email forwarded to an outside vendor. Having e-mail redirected does not absolve a student from the responsibilities associated with official communication sent to his or her SNC e-mail account.

Faculty/Student Honor Code:

The faculty of SNC believes students must be held to high standards of integrity in all aspects of college life in order to promote the educational mission of the College and to encourage respect for the rights of others. Each student brings to the SNC community unique skills, talents, values and experiences which, when expressed within the community, contribute to the quality of the educational environment and the growth and development of the individual. Students share with members of the faculty, administration and staff the responsibility for creating and maintaining an environment conducive to learning and personal development, where actions are guided by mutual respect, integrity, responsibility and trust. The faculty and students alike must make diligent efforts to ensure high standards are upheld by their colleagues and peers as well as themselves. Therefore faculty and students accept responsibility for maintaining these standards at Sierra Nevada College and are obligated to comply with its regulations and procedures, which they are expected to read and understand.

Consequences for Violating the Honor Code:

SNC students and faculty share the responsibility for maintaining an environment of academic honesty. Thus, all are responsible for knowing and abiding by the SNC Faculty/Student Honor Code published in the current SNC Catalog. Faculty are responsible for presenting the honor code and consequences for violating it to students at the start of their classes AND for reporting all incidences of academic dishonesty to the Provost. Students are responsible for knowing what constitutes cheating, plagiarism and fabrication, and refraining from these and other forms of academic dishonesty. Violations of the honor code become part of a student's academic record.

SNC's Disciplinary Sanctions for Honor Code Violations:

- 1st Offense: Student receives a zero for assignment/exam and counseling with faculty on the honor code, consequences for violating the honor code, and the value of academic honesty in learning.
- 2nd Offense: Student fails course and receives counseling with faculty on the honor code, consequences for violating the honor code, and the value of academic honesty in learning.
- 3rd Offense: Student is expelled.

The SNC Mission Statement:

Sierra Nevada College graduates will be educated to be scholars of and contributors to a sustainable world. Sierra Nevada College combines the liberal arts and professional preparedness through an interdisciplinary curriculum that emphasizes entrepreneurial thinking and environmental, social, economic and educational sustainability. Core themes are Liberal Arts, Entrepreneurial Thinking, Professional Preparedness and Sustainability.
