

SNC 101: THE SNC EXPERIENCE
Topic: Time, Identity and Storytelling

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is the common intellectual experience shared by all Sierra Nevada College students, employing variable topics grounded in the social sciences (economics, psychology, political science, anthropology, and sociology). Topics are selected from areas within art, business, humanities, and science to engage entering students while developing the critical skills necessary for a successful and stimulating college career. The learning objectives of the course will develop the abilities central to active, engaged learning. Those abilities include critical thinking, problem-solving, creativity/ innovation, oral communication, teamwork, peer critique, self-reflection, higher-order questioning, and active discussion.

TOPIC DESCRIPTION

Storytelling is a basic human impulse. We have used it to convey important messages about morality, to remember our own history, to transmit knowledge, to warn of danger and to create common culture from the earliest days of human civilization. In this course, students will learn the value of a good story – how it can be used to influence, to persuade and to communicate. Students will focus on learning to tell stories that convey their identity and allow people to get to know them quickly and a deeper level, facilitating human connection. As part of the course, guest storytellers will share their own stories of identity. The course will be framed by the idea that the stories we tell are a method for framing the meaning of the present moment and building personal histories.

MISSION STATEMENT

Sierra Nevada College graduates will be educated to be scholars of and contributors to a sustainable world. Sierra Nevada College combines the liberal arts and professional preparedness through an interdisciplinary curriculum that emphasizes entrepreneurial thinking and environmental, social, economic and educational sustainability.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS

1. Community. In this class, we focus on building a strong community of learners which requires respect and understanding of each other. When your peers are speaking, you give them your attention. You don't speak, nor look at your phone or laptop. Giving your peers your attention allows you to give valuable feedback.
2. Quality. In this class, respecting your peers also requires you to come to class prepared. All assignments must be posted to Moodle prior to 9:00am on the due date of the assignment unless otherwise noted. When we do group work, a lack of preparation negatively impacts your peers.
3. Engagement. You may notice that points are given for in class and out of class assignments so attendance and participation are key factors in your success.

STUDENT OUTCOMES:

1. Students will develop strong oral communication skills and proficiency with a variety of presentation formats. (Liberal Arts)
2. Students will learn to identify complimentary team members, form effective teams and accomplish tasks in a team environment. (Professional Preparedness)
3. Students will develop strong visual literacy skills that can be expressed in a variety of mediums. Students will be able to both communicate visually and interpret the visual communication of others. (Liberal Arts)
4. Students will be able to use basic information literacy skills, including identification of sources, evaluation of sources and application of data, to support their projects. (Liberal Arts)
5. Students will have basic field investigation skills including identification of appropriate real-world sources of information, interview skills and field note creation. (Liberal Arts)
6. Students will develop the tools to support creativity and innovation as applied to problem solving in real world environments, including brainstorming, solution generation and solution validation. (Entrepreneurial Thinking)
7. Students will be comfortable both giving and receiving peer feedback and will demonstrate the ability to adapt their existing work based on this feedback. (Professional Preparedness)
8. Students will understand the evolutionary, historical and psychological roots of storytelling. (Social Sustainability) (Content Objective)
9. Students will be able to tell an effective story to inform, persuade or influence others. (Professional Preparedness, Entrepreneurial Thinking) (Content Objective)

ASSESSMENT OF OUTCOMES

Student outcomes will be assessed through class participation and grades earned on the various exercises, challenges and oral presentations outlined below.

ASSIGNMENTS AND ASSESSMENT: 1000 POINTS POSSIBLE

Community Challenge Presentation (150 points): Students are introduced to a challenge posed by the leader of a local community organization in an area that is related to the class topic. Over the first six weeks, students will work in a 3-4 person team to research the problem and develop potential solutions to this challenge. Students are expected to do field research and interviews as well as academic research. Teams will present their solutions to the class and the community leader for feedback. Presentations will include a PowerPoint or Prezi that follows principles of visual literacy. (Outcome 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6)

Innovative Idea PechaKucha (150 points): This Innovation Challenge asks students to identify their own topic and develop their own solution to a pressing issue locally, nationally or internationally that relates to the topic of the course. There is an expectation for both field and academic research, including interviews. The Innovation Challenge culminates in an individual presentation in PechaKucha format delivered in front of all the class sections. The PechaKucha will be accompanied by an informative, visually meaningful handout or giveaway that will be distributed to members of the class. (Outcome 1, 3, 4, 5,6)

Integrative Thinking Challenge Poster Presentation (150 points): In module three students will team with a student from another class section on a different topic. Team members will meet each other through a networking event where students have to approach each other to learn more about their innovative ideas and identify a potential partner. Once they have found each other, students will work together to develop a new innovation that solves a joint problem that touches both of their original topic areas. The solution is expected to integrate ideas from the individual innovations presented by the students at the end of module two. The point in module three is to stress interdisciplinary thinking, integration of diverse ideas, networking and collaboration. This module will culminate in a campus-wide symposium event where students will present their ideas through a poster presentation. (Outcome 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6)

In Class Activities (198 points) – Some of your most important learning opportunities will arise during open, respectful discussion with your peers and through in-class activities. For this reason, it is essential for you to attend and participate in class sessions. To encourage growth and risk taking, most of these assignments will be graded pass/fail, but your best effort is important to the success of the class. An example of the opportunities for in-class participation that you will be expected to participate during include:

Notes from the Field Presentations: (Outcome 5)

Brainstorming Exercises: (Outcome 6)

Integrative Thinking Prototyping: (Outcome 6)

Networking Event Challenge: (Outcome 2)

Info Literacy Challenge: (Outcome 4)

Peer Feedback Exercises: (Outcome 7)

National Assessments: (Outcome 6)

Content Activities: (Outcome 8 and 9)

Out of Class Activities (202 points) – In an active learning environment, it is important to prepare to fully participate and engage in each class session. More than other classes you may have experienced, homework is an essential aspect of your learning. To encourage growth and risk taking, most of these assignments will be graded pass/fail, but your best effort is important to the success of the class. Examples of assignments include:

Info Literacy Homework: (Outcome 4)

Community Challenge PowerPoint or Prezi Draft: (Outcome 3)

Innovation Challenge Write Up: (Outcome 6)

Innovation Challenge Source Check: (Outcome 4)

Integrative Thinking Challenge Source Check: (Outcome 4)

Integrative Thinking Poster Draft: (Outcome 3)

Networking Event Symbol Design: (Outcome 3)

Content Activities: (Outcome 8 and 9)

INSTRUCTIONAL STRATEGIES

This course uses a challenge-based active learning model to engage students in the topic. In addition to traditional contentment delivery, the course relies on student-directed immersive activities to introduce students to the topic. Peer learning and teamwork are essential elements in the course.

POLICY ON LATE ASSIGNMENTS

All assignments must be uploaded to Moodle before the start of class on the due date posted unless otherwise noted. Unless special arrangements are made to the contrary, late assignments will only be accepted at the discretion of the professor for half credit.

GRADING POLICY

Grading will be based upon the assignments outlined above. Although grades on the assignments described above will be the primary means of grade assessment, improvement throughout the semester will be very important in terms of the final grade. A grade based on the total points earned out of the thousand points possible will be assigned based on the chart provided below. However, if significant improvement occurs throughout the course this fact will be taken into account.

Grade	Total Points Earned
A	930-1000
A-	900-929
B+	870-899
B	830-869
B-	800-829
C+	770-799
C	730-769
C-	700-729
D+	670-699
D	630-669
D-	600-629
F	0-599

CONSEQUENCES FOR VIOLATING THE FACULTY/STUDENT HONOR CODE:

SNC students and faculty share the responsibility for maintaining an environment of academic honesty. Thus, all are responsible for knowing and abiding by the SNC Faculty/Student Honor Code published in the current SNC Catalog. Faculty are responsible for presenting the honor code and consequences for violating it to students at the start of their classes AND for reporting all incidences of academic dishonesty to the Provost. Students are responsible for knowing what constitutes CHEATING, PLAGIARISM, and FABRICATION and refraining from these and other forms of academic dishonesty. Violations of the honor code become part of a student's academic record.

SNC's Disciplinary Sanctions for Honor Code Violations:

- 1st Offense: Student receives a zero for assignment/exam and counseling with faculty on the honor code, consequences for violating the honor code, and the value of academic honesty in learning.
- 2nd Offense: Student fails course and receives counseling with faculty on the honor code, consequences for violating the honor code, and the value of academic honesty in learning.
- 3rd Offense: Student is expelled.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS (ADA): Academic Accommodations: In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, students with a documented disability are eligible for support services and accommodations. If a student wishes to request an accommodation, please contact the Coordinator of Academic Support Services, Henry Conover, at (775) 831-1314 x7534, hconover@sierranevada.edu or go to the Academic Support Services offices on the 3rd floor of Prim Library, within the first week of the semester.
